Scientific Meeting to Prepare for Upcoming CIHR Funding Opportunities

The director of the Pragmatic trials platform of the Quebec-SPOR SUPPORT Unit, M. Janusz Kaczorowski, invites you to attend a scientific meeting on innovative clinical trials. This meeting aims to support interested research teams to submit a grant application on the following CIHR competitions: « Catalyst Grants: SPOR Innovative Clinical Trials » and « Multi-Year Grants: SPOR Innovative Clinical Trial Multi-Year Grant ».

Date: September 12, 2016

Place: Hôtels Gouverneur, Place Dupuis, Montreal

Time: 9:00 - 4:30

Internationally renowned speakers will be present:

Steven Grover, McGill University

Paul Hébert, Université de Montréal

Merrick Zwarenstein, University of Western Ontario

Main objectives :

- Provide the tools and support necessary to prepare a high quality grant application
- Encourage networking

Through lectures and workshops, participants will learn about:

- patient oriented research in the context of innovative trials
- relevance of pragmatic clinical trials
- various relevant methodological approaches

The full program will be available shortly.

Attendance to this conference is reserved for those who plan to submit a grant application to one of the above-mentioned CIHR Innovative Trials competitions. There is a limit of two people per team.

Registration for this event is free and all expenses will be paid by the Pragmatic trials platform of the Quebec-SPOR SUPPORT Unit (e.g., transportation, meals, and accommodations).

Only 50 places are available. Register quickly!
